

How to Navigate the Search Results page

Now that you've found the exact book that we are looking for it's time to find the specific result that is important to you.

The results display as follows:

Local results WITHIN your search radius, results OVER your search radius, followed by the various results from the online bookstores:

New, Used, Rental Agreements and Electronic books.

To view the Individual Post within a specific category, simply press in the area of the category you are looking to receive more information about.

The results will dropdown to reveal all posts from that specific category.

If you would like to see how close a book is to you, press the red Drop pin. From here if you press the arrow found in the bottom left footer bar you will be able to view your current location. You can select any drop pin to find out more information about that specific post, and if you press within the information field that displays, you will be lead to the Individual Post page of that specific Ad.

Lastly, a feature I want to make sure you are made aware of is the Wish List button, found in the dark blue circle. This will allow you to be notified whenever someone has posted a book that meets your search criteria. This will help you be the first to know when a book you are looking for is made available.
